The emerging Austrian artist Daniel Krammer from Rottenmann in Styria living and working in Vienna, will show a newly conceived exhibition named Synesthesia in the framework of the exhibition series YACA (Young Austrian Contemporary Art) and Counterparts Worldwide – Keep it Simple! in my curated series Visiting Schlossberg Mountain/ 'Zu Gast am Schlossberg staged in the local landmark bell tower commonly known by locals as Liesl starting from May until July 2018.

On four floors, including the former prison named Bassgeige/ Double bass 6 metres high in the shape of a double bass, Daniel Krammer will display two video installations, a newly conceived sound installation, consisting of tonal sound fragments, furthermore light objects as well as a curatorial choice of existing paintings and drawings.

During the duration of the exhibition a special education programme will be launched for school kids from age 6 till age 19 as well for students and interested members of the general public of all ages with guided tours by the artist Daniel Krammer, B.A. and the curator Daniela Haberz, M.A.

On the occasion of the exhibition we will publish a limited edition art postcard designed by the artist Daniel Krammer in co-operation with Daniela Haberz, M.A. which will be given away in the framework of our crowdfunding initiative as well as to members, sponsors and funding parties of AØH Art Consultancy Haberz.

The third exhibition catalogue in the art book series AØH Publication edited by Daniela Haberz, M.A. for AØH Art Consultancy Haberz E.u. will be published in the coinciding with the exhibition Synesthesia in the framework of the exhibition series YACA (Young Austrian Contemporary Art) and Counterparts Worldwide – Keep it Simple! in the curated series Visiting Schlossberg Mountain/ Zu Gast am Schlossberg to be presented to the public in February 2019.

Looking forward to seeing you all at the Liesl again in May 2018 to engage in thorough discussion on Daniel Krammer's art!

Daniela Haberz, M.A., Akad. Kult.
Curator and Art Consultant for AØH Art Consultancy Haberz E.u.
